"Parting Comments"

No matter what I write, there still wouldn't be enough words to describe how I feel about this school, and what the people here have done for me. I feel that the people in this school have more feelings in their hearts than the people in Big Bear High School. I really want to thank Steve, Sabra, Doug, Caryn, and all my friends for sticking by me through my hard times, and helping me understand how much school can actually do for you in your life. The two main people I really want to thank are: Sabra And Caryn. Because, when my son was really sick and I couldn't figure out why they were there for me. When my son was in the Hospital dying in my arms, they were there with me to show me that I actually have people who love me and my kid. My final words to the school are: Thank you Chautauqua, I love you.
