

Jason Motzer
May, 14, 1997

Written Comments

When I finally got into Chautauqua High School I met Mike. He really helped me a lot. I think when I came into Chautauqua I had maybe 50 to 60 credits, but Mike worked with me and I still wasn't confident about me graduating or not. I had a hard time taking orders from other teachers before I came to Chautauqua. Mike taught me respect for me and others. I must be the quietest student in Mike's class because I don't talk to anyone. When I come in the morning, I sit down and do my work and leave. I think the reason I don't talk to anyone is because I don't trust people my own age. But anyway its close to graduation. Only one more month, I have almost all my credits and I am starting my graduation check list for Mike and Steve. So I just want to say thank you.