I began to attend Chautauqua in January of '97, after spending four weeks in Community School. At that point in time, I had a choice of what school to attend (BBHS or CT). I chose to go to Chautauqua because I liked the idea of going to school for four hours a day, and working at my own pace as opposed to packing into a school with hundreds of other kids for seven hours a day, and having to meet deadlines every other day.

Chautauqua has been a wonderful learning experience for me: Not only book smarts, but also in everyday life lessons. Over the past years I've been here, my work has greatly improved, and my test scores have hit the roof. I also feel I have grown and matured as a person and have learned much more than books alone could teach me.

The one person I feel I owe the most gratitude to is my teacher Mike Kompaniez. He has taught me more than any other person I know.

Chautauqua High school has provided me with an educational environment where I could achieve success unlike any I have ever encountered, and I will actually miss it.
