

Steve,

Some people refer to Big Bear High School as the "real" high school. I think our high school is as real as you can get. A school is for learning, not for pep-rallies, cheerleaders, and popularity. At CT, there aren't any groups of people to follow. You can be yourself and still fit in. I've learned more and worked harder than I would have at any other school. The teachers are great (especially Sabra). Caryn, Cass, and Cherie are wonderful too. Oh, you're pretty nifty, too. I appreciate the lessons I have learned and the friends I have made.

The only fault I see is that CT needs to be pickier about the people it lets in. Maybe I'm just getting old, but the freshmen seem to be ruining our school spirit.

Thank you!
